BRILLIANT VALENTINE SOCIAL GIVEN HONORING BRIDE AND GROOM-ELECT

Miss Frieda Gernant honored Miss Addie Dunaway and Mr. Jack Averitt with a Valentine party Saturday night. Miss Betty McLemore was in charge of the hand-painted guest register which the guests signed and at which time each one guessed the number of candy hearts in a ribbon-and-face trimmed container.

Mrs. Howell Sewell seated the guests in small groups suitable for informal games. Miss Gernant passed out red contest folders with red pencils attached. She directed a slogan contest and each guest wrote down the product identifying each slogan. Following this, everyone wrote an original verse in honor of the bride and groom-elect. These were well interpreted by Mrs. Ronald Neil, Miss Julie Turner and Mrs. Bernard Morris displayed "Addie's Going-away Bag" and "Jack's Going-away Bag," each of which contained twenty articles which the guests attempted to guess.

Mrs. Curtis Lane won a prize-shaped box of candy as the high scorer in the contests. The hostess' gift to Miss Dunaway was a sterling silver bread and butter plate in her chosen pattern.

The Queen and King of Hearts led the procession into the dining room. The table was covered with a lovely madiera cloth. The centerpiece, designed by Miss Gernant, consisted of a large, upright, heart-shaped valentine, which had a photograph of the Queen and King and was elaborately trimmed in gold and red and white lace. This was flanked by two large, heart-shaped, white glass vases containing red and white carnations.

Mrs. Grover Brannen received a dresser set for high score; for low score, Mrs. J. H. Brett was given dusting powder and Mrs. E. L. Atkins, winning cut, received red carnations.

Other players were Mrs. Mathew McCroan, Mrs. Jim Moore, Mrs. Grady Attaway, Mrs. Percy Averitt, Mrs. Jack Carlton, Mrs. D. L. Davis, Mrs. Perry Kennedy, Mrs. Jack Murray and Mrs. Hugh F. Arnold.

Mrs. Winton Dixon assisted Mrs. Brannen in serving.

The Proper Solution To The Clark Hill Controversy

THE HERALD BELIEVES a happy solution of the Clark Hill controversy has been proposed by Rep. George A. Dondero, of Michigan, in a bill (H.R. 3826) now pending in Congress. Under the Dondero bill, the Army Engineers would acquire the reservoir lands and construct the hydroelectric dam, with ownership vested in the U. S. Government. The Savannah River Electric Company, an affiliate of the Georgia Power Company, would construct and own the power house and distribute the power over the lines of associated companies to consumers in Georgia and adjacent states.

In the never-ending debate over the relative merits of public as opposed to private ownership of the electrical facilities, too often the partisans lose sight of the fact that the purpose of either method should be to provide the most dependable service to the greatest possible number of people at the lowest possible cost. Ample power at reasonable rates for home and farm, for business and industry is the real goal.

The Dondero bill meets this test. It offers the following advantages:

It follows the original agreement reached in 1935 between the Georgia Power Company and the City of Augusta, which was recommended to President Roosevelt by City officials.

The government will recover the entire cost of the project allocated to power (92 percent), including the cost of the power house, in 50 years through the sale of water at the dam to the electric company. This is the only certain method whereby the taxpayers can be assured of the repayment of their investment.

The Army Engineers have stated that the Dondero proposal will not interfere in any way with the operation of the Clark Hill project for the purposes of navigation, flood control or recreation.

Congratulations, Rushing Family

A DISTINCT HONOR was bestowed on a Bulloch county family and Bulloch county last week in Atlanta.

The Delmas Rushing family was declared a Master Farm Family, which is the highest award that can be bestowed on a Georgia farm family. It was won by the Delmas Rushing family on a record of production, high standard of living, and cooperation in making his community a better place in which to live.

The Bulloch Herald congratulates the entire Rushing family and wishes them continued success. We need more progressive families in the county like you!

And, as the Delmas Rushing family was being awarded their honor, the county stepped into the national limelight by becoming the first county in the entire United States to have Five Master Farm Families within its borders.

That's progress! Let's continue!

A Strong Bank In A Strong Community

THEY'VE GOT WHAT IT TAKES down in Brooklet, Georgia!

When the citizens of Brooklet and citizens of the community make up their minds to do something, they do it!

The people of Brooklet wanted a bank in their city. They got it. Last week they opened their bank amid a flurry of congratulations, messages of good wishes, and floral expressions from all parts of Georgia.

The people of Brooklet believe in their new bank, they have full confidence in the men they have chosen to manage the bank. The new Farmers and Merchants Bank of Brooklet is a strong bank and is in good hands. The Herald congratulates the officials and the people of the Brooklet community.

Did You Forget The Library?

Take time out and read this letter. You may have received one or you may not have received one. It was mailed out several weeks ago. Many answered it together with a contribution to the Library. Did you?

Read and re-read it. Then visualize what it means to this community. And make your contribution as liberal as you can.

"We believe you are interested in everything that mesh progress for our county and its people.

"Bulloch county has many assets in which we all take a great pride—our churches, our fine schools, our culture, our rich farming lands, and our PUBLIC LIBRARY.

"Our Library has made great progress since it was organized twelve years ago. Through our Bulloch County Library it is being felt over the entire county.

"During the years since its organization, rent-free quarters have been furnished. Now, for continued growth, more adequate quarters are necessary.

"For several years your library board members have been trying to accumulate enough funds for a library building. At present we have a suitable lot that was given to us. We have $20,000 in cash and bonds. However, it is going to take an additional $20,000 to build the type of library that Bulloch county needs and deserves.

"We want everyone in Bulloch county to have an interest in our new building. Won't you use the

More Hybrid Corn Will Be Planted

Indications are that more hybrid corn will be planted in Bulloch county this year than ever before. Local seed dealers report not only more bushels of hybrids will be planted, but also more varieties will be tried.

Griffith's hybrid, was known as lowland, will be planted extensively for early hog feed. It matures around July 1 and can be grazed off before another crop comes on. Hogs don't care for it when dry, which means that only

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong

He only is great who has the habits of greatness; who, after performing what none in ten thousand could accomplish, passes on like Samson, and "tells neither father nor mother of it."—Lavater.

It was a great day for us when we were in high school. It's a great day for those who are in high school today.

Remember how we became excited over "Who's Who"? For as long as the senior class at Statesboro has been publishing the Criterion there has been "Who's Who." Who's the prettiest? Who's the most intellectual? Who's the cutest?

Recently, the 1948 seniors asked these same questions, and here are the answers: Louise Simmons, according to his schoolmates, is "Mr. S.H.S." Charlotte Clements is "Miss S.H.S." And it's not unusual that "Miss S.H.S." should be the "Prettiest Girl," and it's not unusual that "Mr. S.H.S." is the "Best Looking Boy."

Patsy Odum was named "Most Friendly Girl," and man-about-town Mike McDougald was selected as the "Most Friendly Boy."

Robert Parrish, a favorite on the football field and the basketball court, was a natural for the "Best Athlete—Boy," and Patsy Odum, a football cheer leader and a power on the girls' basketball team, was the favorite for "Best Athlete—Girl."

Mike McDougald, "Most Friendly," doubled up and is thought to have the "Most School Spirit," with Nell Bowen holding up the girls' side for the "Most School Spirit."

If being the prettiest girl makes for popularity, then it follows as night follows day that Charlotte Clements should have been named "Most Popular Girl" and, by the same logic, Louise Simmons, the best looking, should also be the "Most Popular Boy."

And Charlotte Clements has something on the ball, too, for it's a rare combination—Prettiest Girl, "Most Popular Girl," and now the "Most Intellectual Girl" (Louise sort of let the boys down) but Donald Hostetter, a football player of note, holds up the boy angle as the "Most Intellectual Boy."

Mike McDougald's Who's Who adds up to the "Most Dependable Boy," and Nell Bowen, who shares with Mike the "Most School Spirit," is also the "Most Dependable Girl."

Lane Johnson, musician, editor, runs off with the "Most Talented" (boy or girl), and John F. Brannen, Jr., orator, is the "Most Ambitious" (boy or girl).

Ann Waters takes high honors as the "Cutest," and Ashton Cassidy comes along as the "Cutest Boy."

are again being tried by a few corn growers.

Lepedeza is now being sown on oats and in pastures to help out with the short corn crop of last year and to help carry over until some of these early hybrids can be grazed. Lepedeza and a small amount of grain will carry hogs or cows through the early spring and into summer, while on grass, in good condition.

IT DIDN'T HAPPEN HERE!

EDITOR'S NOTE: This column is designed to create dissatisfaction with the present status of Statesboro. It will consist of stories of what other communities like ours are doing, with the hope that Statesboro might realize that we must be continually alert to maintain the classification of "A Progressive City."

This week our "It Didn't Happen Here" column presents a new slant. We have been depending on the newspapers from other sections of the state for our material. Last week we received a letter from a man who travels over all Southeast Georgia. He is familiar with our column. He writes of a community which doesn't talk much but does things. Here is his letter:

"Mr. Coleman,
"Bulloch Herald,
"Statesboro, Ga.

"Mr. McClung, local manager (of the Georgia Power Company at Wadley), just told me a story that I thought might fit into your column. 'It Didn't Happen Here.' Seems as though the people of Wadley decided there was a need for a gymnasium here, and, with that in mind, called a mass meeting of the people ten days ago.

"After the talk, the mayor, Mr. Roy Foster, said if they wanted one he would donate the site and a considerable sum of money. Others, taking a cue from that, pledged either money, services or material, and at the end of the meeting they had pledged half on the amount needed. The lumber interests pledged the lumber needed, another the concrete foundation, another the wiring supplies, etc. Construction will be commenced within thirty days. Cost of the gymnasium will be between $15,000 and $20,000.

"This one example of a town doing more than just talking at length about a needed project and doing nothing concrete about it. I believe it all the more commendable inasmuch as Wadley is only approximately 2,000 in population.

"Sincerely,
"H. YARBROUGH."
"But It Didn't Happen Here!"

Two Negro Youths Practice Farming In Bulloch County

During this month two Negro youths, Alton W. Spells and Robert Henley, seniors at the Georgia State College studying agriculture, are doing practice work in Bulloch County under County Agent Martin.

In making a report of their work here, Spells, speaking for himself and Henley, says: "Our first study of the county was with some of the farm organizations, which include the various community 4-H clubs and Farm Bureau organizations. We find that there are 24 4-H clubs and six farm clubs. These have a membership of 958 boys and girls and 700 men and women. We feel the farm people of this county are to be commended for the splendid spirit, interest and cooperation that exists within these organizations. Here, these members seem to enjoy taking advantage of the opportunity to broaden their knowledge in the pursuits of agriculture, in moral character, and in the higher qualities of citizenship.

"We wish to thank the county officials, state officials, and the county at large for all that is offered us in preparing us for our work. We will be here until March 1, and we pledge our untiring efforts in serving in any capacity you might need us."

FACULTY DAMES FETE VETS' WIVES AT PARTY

Last Wednesday night, February 18, in East Hall on the Georgia Teachers College campus, the Faculty Dames entertained the Veterans' Wives Club with a most enjoyable informal party.

The table in the center of the large parlor held a crystal bowl filled with red and white carnations which radiated a cheerful atmosphere. Clever little red paper hats were given to each person and the program was written on these in white ink. The party followed the George Washington theme.

Mrs. John Erickson, president of the Faculty Dames, welcomed the Veterans' Wives and turned the program over to Mrs. Mike Goldwire, who was chairman of that committee. Others serving with her were Mrs. Cameron Bremseth, Mrs. Judson Ward and Mrs. J. B. Seacore.

Mrs. Goldwire introduced Mrs. Jack Brouck who sang "When Day is Done" and was accompanied by Mrs. Zach Henderson. Mrs. Henderson then led the group in a community sing.

Mrs. Goldwire conducted several contests and prizes were won by Mrs. Bert Fulford, Mrs. Frank Bagley and Mrs. Ellis Hargrove.

Mrs. Seacore directed games and called for two ladies from each of the groups, suggesting that they have some musical knowledge, because they would have to blow a bazooka. Mrs. Ralph Lyon and Mrs. Powell Whitfield were chosen from the Faculty Dames and Mrs. Jerry White and Mrs. Frank Bagley represented the Veterans' Wives.

The bazooka turned out to be Bazooka bubble gum and the Veterans' Wives team won when they succeeded in blowing the first bubbles.

Prize-winners in other contests were Mrs. Robert Woodall and Mrs. Glenn Rasmussen.

A colorful dessert plate of individual cherry pie covered with whipped cream, divinity candy topped with cherries, and nuts and coffee was served. Mrs. Fielding Russell and Mrs. Ivan Hostetter had charge of the refreshment committee.

All's Fair

I'm on the spot—not the one marked "X"—But all comfy in a room clearly marked "C-4." I know doctors and nurses I manage to vex. But that's not good tactics I've been told before. Just take things as they come, and never complain—For there's so many others who have more pain. Now, by this time you know B.C.H. is my address, And I like it here, I must confess. Supt. Joe Brannen gets around with dignity and calm; Is everywhere at once and wins the palm. For her gentle presence insures a sense of well being—And some of these nurses are really worth seeing.

NOW STAY WHERE YOU ARE boys, for most of them are Mrs. S-and-So. Frinstance, there is dainty Jean Coleman, who is supervisor. She looks more like Anne Attaway's twin than June. Jean was nurse at T.C. last year but she really rates at B.C.H. Her husband is Don Coleman, of Fitzgerald, and is attending T.C. Another luscious brunette, quite young and attractive, is an X-ray technician. She is Mary Lou Newberry, of Augusta. Mary Lou is charming in uniform, but let her don an off-shoulder, full-skirted formal and the stag line would soon have her dizzy on the dance floor. By the way, she adores dancing.

Escorted by Mrs. Albert Morris, of Brooklet, I visited the nursery, where I met Baby Bowen (remember his arrival on a stretcher, much to the dismay of Jake Smith?) Baby Bowen is known out here as Pee Wee. He enjoys the privacy of an incubator and Mrs. Morris announced proudly that he had gained a whole pound, his present weight being 4 pounds and 3 ounces. The adorable infants had one thing in common when I saw them. Their fists were clinched tightly as if already they knew they were ushered into a fighting world.

I'VE ABOUT DECIDED it's really educational to spend some time in a hospital at intervals. When I was here before, tea-spoons had not become extinct. Now I have learned quickly that most medicine comes in ampules and is measured in c.c.'s and is administered in vicious-looking needles slightly resembling Bob Burns' bazooka. And girls that are tiny and apparently harmless stab you in the back and you realize that the sweet young thing probably pulled wings off flies and caught mice and chopped off their tails during their play period.

THE LOVELY CAMELLIAS and hyacinths I have received get more attention than I. And why not? They're far more gorgeous than the patient . . . As ever, JANE.
